

Extra gear

- Binoculars and Rangefinder
- Camera/s
- USB flash drive or SD card for copying your PH's pictures onto
- Flashlight
- Pocket knife
- Sun Block (at least SPF 30)
- Small backpack for daily equipment while hunting
- Lip balm
- International plug set – conversion to South Africa 220V
- Insect repellent
- Spare batteries if needed
- Toiletries
- Prescription drugs if required

Archery equipment

- Bow and selected arrows
- Sufficient sharp broadheads
- Trigger (preferably a backup as well)
- Quiver
- Allen key set
- Soft bow bag (for traveling while hunting)
- Hard bow case (for traveling in between destinations and internationally)

Permits and Licenses:

- We will apply for any permits and licenses that might be needed.
- In the case of a CITES permit there might be an extra fee, but we will inform you before we apply for it.

Traveling process

- The first step is to fly into OR Tambo International Airport (Johannesburg).
- Upon arrival in Johannesburg fly Windhoek International Airport (apprx 2 hour flight)
- From Windhoek International Airport we will pick you up at the airport, from where we will leave for the hunting area.

What to expect in Namibia

Namibia is a beautiful country and one that will be very different from any Southern African country. The landscape changes dramatically from the North to the South. Our main concession is in South-Central Namibia right in the heart of the Kalahari Desert. Here you will experience a true arid feel and climate with big red sand dunes that stretches for many miles. In the Northern part of the country you will experience thicker vegetated areas will rocky out crops etc.

Namibian people are some of the friendliest people in the world and you are in for a treat. They are great hosts and will make you feel right at home, not to mention the great food.

Namibia is a must for any serious hunter. Here you can hunt in one of the last huntable deserts in the world – an experience that will be very different than anything you have ever experienced.

FAQ

How many hunting days are necessary?

This will depend on what species you have on your wishlist, but for a normal plainsgame hunt 7 days will be adequate. If you do wish to hunt more than one location (for example the North and the South) 10 to 14 days will be more than enough.

What hunting methods will be used?

Hunting will be done by sitting in handpicked locations out of blinds overlooking watering holes and by hunting on foot (spot and stalk). Both these methods proved to be very efficient and successful.

Gear recommendations?

Plainsgame:

Any modern compound bow with a draw weight of 60-70 pounds. We recommend an arrow of at least 400gn with a well build and reliable broadhead.

For women and younger hunters we recommend 40 pounds of draw weight on small to medium game. For larger game we would recommend a draw weight of 47 pounds or higher. In these cases we will give you guidance after booking a hunt, so make sure to ask us if you have any questions.

Dangerous Game:

For buffalo we recommend a setup of at least 70 pounds draw weight (preferably 75+ pounds) with an arrow of at least 750 gn and a 2 blade fixed blade broadhead.

Our recommendation to clients is to practice up to at least 60 yards. This way your shot opportunities will be much more.

What types of food and drinks can I expect?

Breakfast will consist of a normal continental breakfast and cereals. Or an early coffee and rusks and a big breakfast/brunch late morning.

Lunch will be either in camp or a packed lunch if you are spending the whole day in the bush.

Dinners are a 3 course meal and you can definitely expect to have some of the animals you hunted to be served on your hunt.

A list of beverages and alcoholic drinks will be sent to you upon booking a hunt to confirm what your preferences are.

